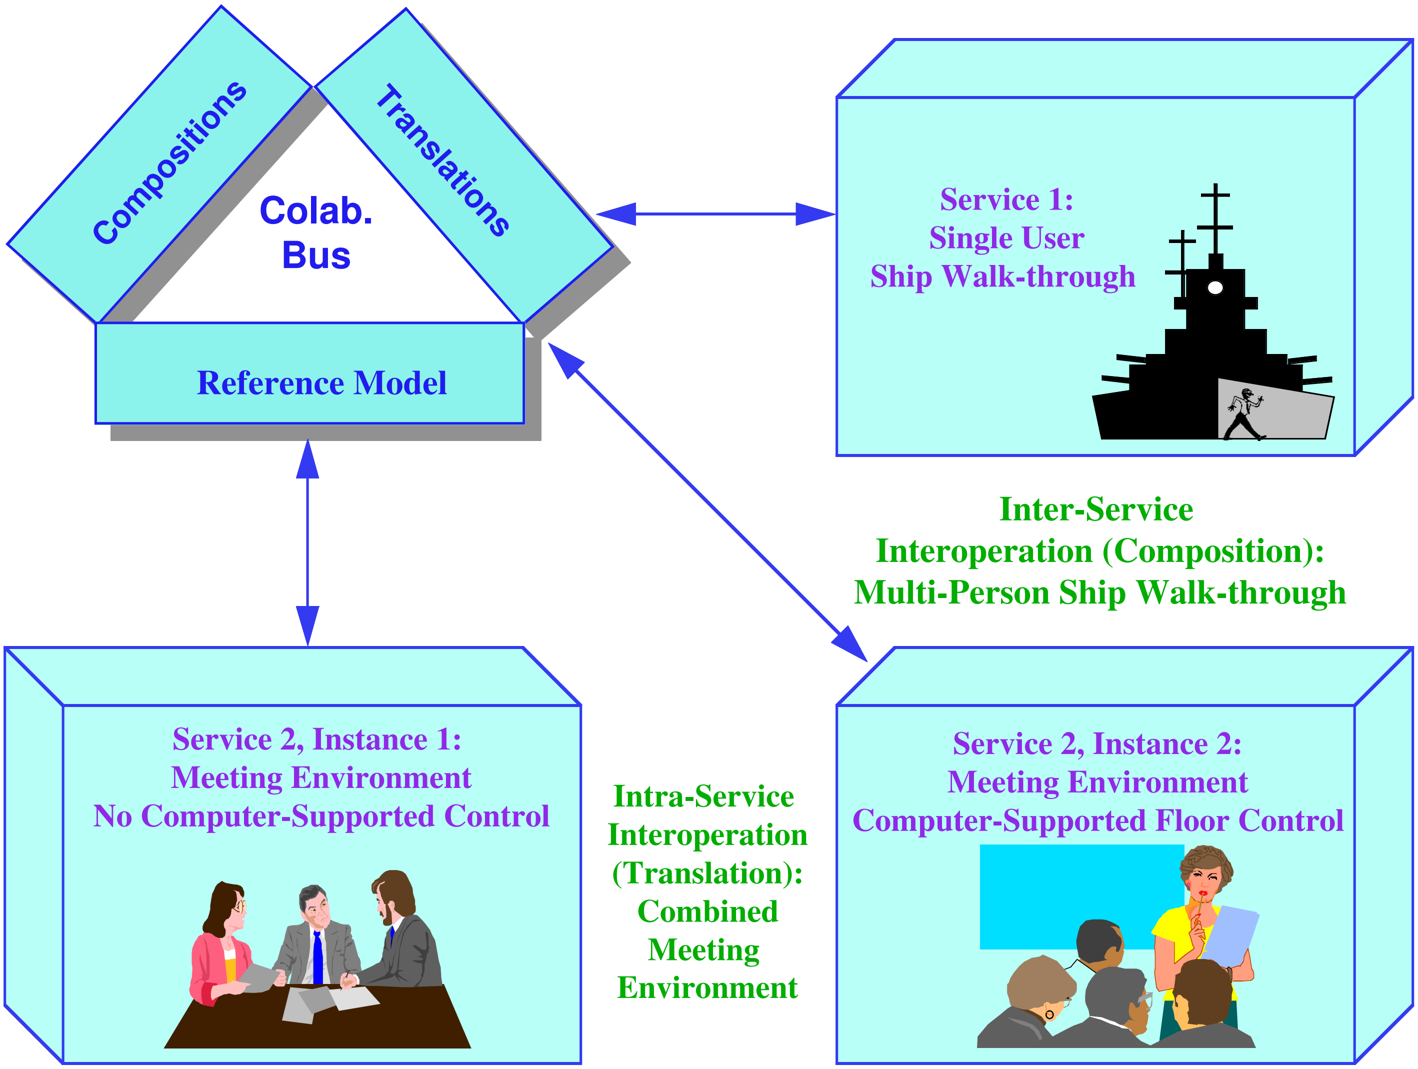
Collaboration Bus



- Allow reuse of code through inter-service interoperability (compositions) of existing implementations of different functions
- Allow co-existence of systems through intra-service interoperability (translations) of different implementations of same function
- Develop a collaboration reference model providing default implementations of generic services