About TeachGenie

As you know, AI tools have become increasingly important in our ever evolving society. While they are invaluable, they also have shortcomings, especially within education. They are being used to cheat, and get a quick answer, promoting students to not use critical thinking skills to solve problems. This has big implications for our society and future generations.

That's why we created TeachGenie. We want to evolve with technology and utilize AI without compromising the problem solving and critical thinking skills of future generations.

Our Vision and Mission

At TeachGenie, our goal is to connect teachers with an AI tool to enhance and uplift their teaching strategies, lesson plans, tests, quizzes, and other more. Through this AI model, teachers can generate classroom material tailored to their student's needs, meeting them where they are at to help them reach their full potential.

As a future goal, TeachGenie would like to connect students to an AI model that focuses on education and support rather than giving away answers. Students could use our model as a one on one tutor, and ask specific questions about what they are learning. The AI tutor would them guide them through what they don't understand, rather than giving them an easy way out (like other AI tools on the market).

Our Services

Give teacher's a helping hand, and provide their students with tailored lesson material, tests, and quizzes.

Provide students with an AI tutor to help them solve problems using their own thinking skills, rather than relying on technology.

Our Demographic

By marketing our tool to teachers and students, we reach a large and expansive clientele, with millions of possible customers In the US alone.

3.8M+
